Re: United States v. Strohbusch, 19 Cr. 309 (ALC)

Hon. Judge Carter,

With objection from pretrial, and no position from the government, I write to request permission for Mr. Strohbusch to travel from New York, with his sister, to their parent's home in Burbank, California. Via electronic mail, USPTSO Moscato informs that pretrial "does not consent to travel for defendants with the condition of curfew (or home detention/incarceration) enforced with LM."

Should the Court grant the request, Mr. Strohbusch would travel with his sister on December 17, 2022, and return to New York City with his sister on January 15, 2022. The point of the travel is to allow Mr. Strohbusch to spend time with his mother and father and have them help him seek treatment for his addiction.

I thank the Court for its continuing attention to this matter.

Respectfully submitted,

/s/Sabrina P. Shroff
